BANKING

SEBI Introduces Age-Based Investment Framework Through

Life Cycle Funds

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) introduced Life Cycle Funds with regulated equity and debt exposure limits based on investor age and time to maturity.

Life Cycle Funds are open-ended target-date funds that follow a glide path investment strategy, investing across multiple asset classes such as Equity, Debt, InvITs, ETCs, Gold ETFs, and Silver ETFs.

These funds promote goal-based investing and follow a systematic reduction in equity exposure as the fund approaches the maturity date, increasing debt allocation for stability.

Mutual funds may launch Life Cycle Funds with a minimum tenure of 5 years and a maximum tenure of 30 years, with launch tenures allowed only in multiples of 5 years.

A maximum of 6 Life Cycle Funds can remain open for subscription at any given point of time by a mutual fund house.

Life Cycle Funds can be launched with target maturities such as 30 years, 25 years, 20 years, 15 years, 10 years, and 5 years.

When a Life Cycle Fund has less than 1 year remaining to maturity, it may be merged with the nearest maturity fund, subject to unit holder consent.

In long-term funds (example 30-year funds), equity allocation may range between 65%–95% during the 15–30 years remaining maturity period.

As maturity approaches, equity exposure decreases gradually, while debt exposure increases to reduce market risk volatility.

For funds with less than 5 years to maturity, equity arbitrage exposure up to 50% is allowed, but total equity exposure must remain within prescribed limits (65%–75%).

SEBI Introduces Major Reforms to Strengthen Transparency and Discipline

The Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) introduced sweeping reforms in the ₹81 lakh crore Indian mutual fund industry to improve transparency, portfolio discipline, and investor protection.

Solution-oriented schemes such as retirement funds and children's funds will stop accepting fresh inflows and will be merged with similar schemes, affecting funds worth about ₹60,000 crore.

SEBI introduced "true-to-label" investment norms to ensure mutual fund schemes invest strictly according to their stated investment objectives and reduce misleading fund categorization.

Mutual funds are now allowed to invest up to 35% of assets in Gold, Silver, and InvITs (Infrastructure Investment Trusts) to improve portfolio diversification beyond traditional equity and debt assets.

This new rule replaces the earlier system that used London Bullion Market Association (LBMA) price benchmarks adjusted for currency conversion, import duties, and premium costs.

SEBI mandated minimum equity allocation norms for Multi-Cap Funds, requiring at least 25% investment each in large-cap, mid-cap, and small-cap stocks.

Fund houses must maintain less than 50% portfolio overlap between sectoral/thematic funds and other equity schemes to prevent portfolio concentration risk and improve investment differentiation.

These reforms aim to enhance mutual fund market efficiency, promote investor transparency, and strengthen risk management standards in the Indian asset management sector.
