Government Sets Up Panel to Monitor Thermal Power Capacity Additions

The Power Ministry has set up the Thermal Power Monitoring Group (TPMG) that will regularly track the progress of upcoming thermal power plants (TPPs) in the country.

Power Minister R K Singh approved the setting up of an independent TPMG, which will conduct site inspections and provide an assessment of each site of the TPP under implementation by a central or State utility and Independent Power Producers (IPPs).

The 8-member TPMG will be headed by the Central Electricity Authority's (CEA) member (Thermal).

The members also include a Chief Engineer or higher-level officer from the CEA. TPMG members will visit the TPPs under implementation inspection to observe first-hand progress made by the project developers and based on their assessment, will submit a progress report to the group.

The TPMG will compare the progress report with the progress being reported by project proponents directly to the CEA.

Besides, six retired senior officers from the CEA, NTPC and Damodar Valley Corporation (DVC) will also be part of the panel and will be selected by the Ministry.

The high-level panel will identify challenges being encountered during the implementation phase and evaluate the effectiveness of the mitigation strategies employed by the developers.

The Members have to submit a progress review report within seven working days after a site visit.
