Indian Army Initiates Procurement of Indigenous 'SAKSHAM' Counter-Drone System

The Indian Army has initiated the procurement of the indigenous 'SAKSHAM' Counter Unmanned Aerial System (UAS) Grid), a command and control network designed to detect, track, identify, and neutralise enemy drones in real time.

SAKSHAM stands for Situational Awareness for Kinetic Soft and Hard Kill Assets Management, marking a major advancement in integrated airspace control.

The system was developed in collaboration with Bharat Electronics Limited (BEL), Ghaziabad, and operates on the secure Army Data Network (ADN).

It provides a unified "Recognised UAS Picture" across the Tactical Battlefield Space (TBS), extending up to 3,000 metres (10,000 feet) above ground level.

The TBS concept evolved after Operation Sindoor, following increased drone incursions that highlighted the need for real-time airspace management.

SAKSHAM's modular grid connects multiple counter-drone weapons and sensors, integrating data from radar and electro-optical systems for instant threat alerts and response.

It uses AI-driven threat analysis to automate decision-making and improve accuracy in neutralising aerial targets.

The system is fully indigenous, reflecting the army's commitment to Atmanirbhar Bharat and self-reliance in defence technology.

IMPORTANT DAYS

International Day of Girl Child

International Day of Girl Child will occur on October 11.

The need to address the issues girls confront, support girls' empowerment, and ensure that their human rights are upheld are all highlighted by the International Day of the Girl Child.

The 2025 theme for the International Day of the Girl Child is "The girl I am, the change I lead: Girls on the frontlines of crisis"

A much-needed surge of international support for young girls was launched in 1995 when the Beijing Declaration and Platform for Action highlighted the rights of girls.

It was the most forward-thinking action taken to promote equality and ensure better options for girls everywhere.

The International Day of the Girl Child was established by the United Nations General Assembly as a continuation of this.

Since that time in December 2012, the UN has worked to recognize the issues and obstacles that young girls face today.
