Union Finance Minister Launches NMP 2.0 Asset Monetisation Pipeline

Nirmala Sitharaman, Union Minister of Finance (MoF), launched the second phase of the National Monetisation Pipeline called National Monetisation Pipeline 2.0 (NMP 2.0) in New Delhi.

NMP 2.0 focuses on asset monetisation, which means using under-utilised or existing infrastructure assets to generate government revenue and attract fresh investments for economic development.

The pipeline was formulated by NITI Aayog in consultation with infrastructure ministries, aligned with the Asset Monetisation Plan 2025-30 announced in the Union Budget 2025-26.

The NMP 2.0 target estimates an aggregate monetisation potential of ₹16.72 lakh crore, including private sector investment of ₹5.8 lakh crore, during FY 2025-26 to FY 2029-30.

The target under NMP 2.0 is 2.6 times higher than the target under NMP 1.0.

The Finance Minister stated that NMP 1.0 achieved nearly 90% of its ₹6 lakh crore target, demonstrating successful implementation of asset monetisation reforms.

The initiative supports the vision of Viksit Bharat @2047 by promoting accelerated infrastructure development and economic growth momentum.

Asset monetisation helps in recycling productive public assets, enabling capital expenditure (CAPEX) funding while reducing budgetary pressure on the government.

The policy aims to mobilise funds for new infrastructure projects and support sustainable economic expansion through public asset value unlocking.

BANKING

New India Co-operative Bank Limited removed from Second Schedule of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934 from February 2026

New India Co-operative Bank Limited., Mumbai, Maharashtra has been removed from the Second Schedule of the Reserve Bank of India Act, 1934, which lists scheduled banks in India, effective from February 2026.

Removal from the Second Schedule means the bank loses its status as a scheduled bank, along with privileges such as access to RBI refinance facilities and participation in monetary policy operations and liquidity support mechanisms.

Scheduled bank status is granted under Section 42 of the RBI Act, 1934, subject to fulfilment of requirements such as minimum capital, reserve maintenance, and regulatory compliance norms.

Exclusion from the schedule follows the bank's voluntary amalgamation with Saraswat Co-operative Bank Ltd., which was approved in August 2025 to ensure stability after a significant misappropriation scam.

The action highlights RBI's strict regulatory supervision to ensure financial system stability and depositors' protection in the banking sector during institutional transitions.

RBI Issues Regulatory Guidelines for Bank Lending to Real ## Estate Investment Trusts

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) released draft amendment directions across five regulatory frameworks covering commercial banks, small finance banks (SFBs), and All India Financial Institutions (AIFIs) regarding credit facilities, concentration risk management, and financial disclosure norms.

The draft allows regulated entities to provide finance to Real Estate Investment Trusts (REITs) subject to prudential safeguards, risk management standards, and exposure limits.

Banks may lend to SEBI-registered REITs in India, while overseas branches may lend to foreign REITs only in jurisdictions having a strong insolvency or bankruptcy legal framework.

Banks can lend only to listed REITs that have been operational for at least 3 years, have positive net distributable cash flows for the last 2 years, and have no adverse regulatory action in the past 3 years.

Lending is permitted only if Special Purpose Vehicles (SPVs) under the REIT structure are not under financial stress.

Banks must follow a Board-approved lending policy, ensure continuous monitoring of end-use of funds, and confirm that trust deeds permit borrowing.

The aggregate bank exposure to a REIT and its SPVs/holding companies (Holdcos) cannot exceed 49% of the REIT asset value, unless the Board prescribes stricter limits.

Banks must carefully evaluate cash flow stability and debt servicing capacity before extending credit to REIT entities.

The framework strengthens prudential regulation, financial stability, and safe infrastructure financing channels in the banking system.

Reserve Bank Of India Issues Revised Kisan Credit Card Guidelines

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) issued draft revised guidelines for Kisan Credit Card (KCC) to expand coverage, improve agricultural financing, and streamline loan operations.

The revised KCC framework applies to commercial banks, Small Finance Banks (SFBs), Regional Rural Banks (RRBs), and rural cooperative banks to ensure uniform implementation across India.

The guidelines apply to new KCC loans and existing loans during renewal or review cycles.

Crop seasons have been standardized as 12 months for short-duration crops and 18 months for long-duration crops to ensure uniform repayment and loan planning cycles.

Marginal farmers are defined as farmers owning up to 1 hectare of land, while small farmers own more than 1 hectare but up to 2 hectares of land.

The KCC loan tenure has been extended to 6 years to better match long agricultural crop cycles.

Drawing limits will now be based on scale of finance per crop season, ensuring credit reflects actual cultivation and input costs.

Farmers can use an additional 20% credit limit for technology-driven agriculture practices such as soil testing, weather forecasting, and organic certification.

A flexible KCC credit limit of ₹10,000 - ₹50,000 is available for marginal farmers based on landholding size and crop type.

Eligible borrowers include owner cultivators, tenant farmers, sharecroppers, Self Help Groups (SHGs), and Joint Liability Groups (JLGs).

Farmers engaged in animal husbandry, fisheries, and allied agricultural activities are also eligible for working capital credit.

Banks shall waive collateral security and margin requirements for agricultural loans up to ₹2 lakh per borrower.
