Uttarakhand Implements Uniform Civil Code (Amendment) Ordinance, 2026

The Government of Uttarakhand has implemented the Uniform Civil Code (Amendment) Ordinance, 2026 after receiving approval from the Governor of Uttarakhand, giving the ordinance immediate legal effect.

The ordinance has been promulgated under Article 213 of the Constitution of India, which empowers the Governor to issue ordinances when the State Legislature is not in session.

The Uniform Civil Code (UCC) was originally implemented in Uttarakhand on 27 January 2025, making it the first state in India to enforce a comprehensive Uniform Civil Code.

The amendment ordinance introduces procedural, administrative and penal reforms to strengthen the implementation of the existing Uniform Civil Code Act, 2024.

The key objective of the amendments is to remove ambiguities, improve clarity of provisions, and ensure effective enforcement of the Uniform Civil Code across the state.

The ordinance aligns penal provisions of the UCC with the new Indian criminal laws, ensuring legal consistency and updated punishment mechanisms.

A major focus of the amendment is on women's empowerment, protection of children's rights, and equality in civil laws applicable to all communities.

The amendments strengthen registration-related powers, improve the appellate mechanism, and enhance administrative authority for better implementation.

The Uniform Civil Code has significantly advanced digital governance, especially in marriage registration, by shifting processes from physical offices to online platforms.

Under the UCC framework, nearly 100 percent marriage registrations are now conducted online through document uploads and video-based verification of couples and witnesses.

Within one year of UCC implementation, more than five lakh marriages have been registered digitally, with marriage certificates issued within an average of five days.

RBI and European Securities and Markets Authority Sign Memorandum of Understanding

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA) signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) on January 27, 2026, for cooperation and information exchange related to Central Counterparties (CCPs) regulated by RBI.

This MoU replaces the earlier agreement signed on 28 February 2017, which had lapsed, updating the framework for supervisory cooperation between the two authorities.

The agreement enables RBI and ESMA to cooperate on oversight of CCPs in accordance with their respective legal and regulatory frameworks, resolving a long-standing impasse.

The MoU establishes a framework for ESMA to rely on RBI's regulatory and supervisory activities for Indian clearing houses (like CCIL), while safeguarding EU financial stability.

The agreement strengthens India-EU financial market linkages and reinforces global coordination in the regulation of critical financial market infrastructures.

The MoU was signed by Vivek Deep, Executive Director of RBI, and Verena Ross, Chair of ESMA.

The agreement demonstrates the importance of cross-border cooperation to facilitate international clearing activities, potentially reducing capital charges for European banks operating in India.

RBI Proposes Changes to Banks' FX Exposure Framework and Capital Requirements for FX Risk

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has proposed changes to the framework for calculating banks' net foreign exchange (FX) exposure and the capital requirements for FX risk.

The objective of the proposals is to align India's FX risk norms with global standards (Basel Committee) and ensure uniform implementation across all regulated entities.

Under the proposed framework, banks must maintain a minimum capital charge of 9% on their net open foreign exchange positions.

The revised rules mandate that FX risk capital be maintained at the close of each business day, thereby strengthening daily risk management.

The RBI has invited public feedback on the proposals, which are proposed to come into effect from 1 April 2027.

India and European Union Sign First-Ever Comprehensive Defence and Security Partnership

India and the European Union signed their first comprehensive Defence and Security Partnership, alongside the conclusion of the India–European Union Free Trade Agreement.

The agreement was signed during the visit of European Union leaders to India for the 77th Republic Day celebrations, marking a historic expansion of bilateral ties beyond trade.

This is the first-ever overarching defence and security agreement between India and the European Union, reflecting a major strategic milestone in bilateral relations.

The partnership establishes a formal and comprehensive framework for cooperation in maritime security, defence industry, defence technology, and space security.

The agreement signals that India and the European Union now view each other as reliable and long-term security partners in a volatile global security environment.

Alongside the defence partnership, both sides launched negotiations on a Security of Information Agreement.

The Security of Information Agreement will enable the exchange of classified information while ensuring legal safeguards for the protection of sensitive data.

This agreement is a mandatory framework for the European Union to share classified material with third countries and is expected to strengthen defence-industrial and strategic cooperation.

The partnership reflects shared concerns over rising cross-regional security threats, increasing focus on Indo-Pacific maritime security, and evolving global geopolitical tensions.

The European Union's growing defence preparedness, particularly amid concerns related to Russia and Ukraine, aligns with India's push for defence self-reliance and diversification of strategic partners.

Both sides acknowledged the need for closer cooperation to counter terrorism, hybrid threats, and cyber insecurity.

India and the European Union also adopted the "Towards 2030: India–European Union Joint Comprehensive Strategic Agenda" to provide long-term direction to bilateral cooperation.

The Government of India has highlighted key reforms, including the Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023, Digital Personal Data Protection Rules, 2025, and a ₹782 crore cybersecurity allocation in the Union Budget 2025–26.

Major platforms such as Aadhaar, Unified Payments Interface, MyGov, and eSanjeevani have transformed governance, payments, healthcare, and welfare delivery.

The Information Technology Act, 2000 provides the foundational legal framework for electronic governance, digital signatures, and cybersecurity oversight in India.

The Act empowers institutions such as the Indian Computer Emergency Response Team, which functions as the national cyber incident response agency.
